DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-15, 18, and 20-36, drawn to a method of performing a one-pot organic reaction, classified in class 436, subclass 145.
  - II. Claims 15-18, and 35-36, drawn to a method for preparing a chemical library, classified in class 435, subclass 3.
  - III. Claim 19, drawn to a kit for organic reactions, classified in class 435, subclass 287.1.

"It is noted that the method of Group I is unclear as to the type of end product is being produced by the method of the organic reaction since carbon monoxide is the reactant. Additionally, the method of Group II is also unclear as to the type of "chemical library" being produced by the recited method."

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of Group I and Group II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different method steps that have different functions and effects. The feature of carbon monoxide as reactant of Group I is not required by the claims of Group II.

Art Unit: 1639

3. Inventions of Group I (process) and Group III (apparatus) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process.

(MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as the method of Group II or substrate preparation for biochip.

4. Inventions of Group II (process) and Group III (apparatus) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the searches required are not co-extensive thus requiring a burdensome search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Additionally, different patentability considerations are involved for each group. For example, a patentability determination for Group III would involve a determination of the patentability of a kit while a patentability determination for Group I would involve a consideration of the patentability of a method for performing a one-pot organic reaction. These considerations are very different in nature.

Art Unit: 1639

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

7. If applicants elect the invention of either Group I (Claims 1-14, 18, and 20-36), Group II (Claims 15-18, and 35-36), or Group III (Claims 19), applicants are required to further elect one species from each group below:

a. Non-catalyzing solid.

b. Non-catalyzing CO-releasing compound.

c. The metal catalyst (with regards to Group I and Group II).

d. The non-metal substrate (with regards to Group I and Group II).

e. The additional reactant (with regards to Group I and Group II).

g. An energy source (with regards to Group II only).

Further, a single elected species of a "non-catalyzing CO releasing compound" would include a specific chemical structure (e.g. defining a specific species for each of the moiety that is "M", "x", "y", "R<sub>1</sub>", and "R<sub>2</sub>"). A single elected species of "an additional reactant" would include a specific chemical structure (e.g. defining a specific species for the moiety that is "R<sub>3</sub>").

8. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

9. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

10. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
